The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14-15, 17-18, 20-22, and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ku – US 2002/0132394.

Ku (Figs. 1-5 and paragraphs 29-46) discloses the claimed invention by delineating a conducting element 14 (which can be a multilayer) disposed on an insulating layer 12 using mask 16, complementary areas rendered insulating by oxidation with a volatile oxide 24 with the conducting layer evaporating at least partly.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ku and Gardner – US 6,451,657.

Ku is applied as above and does not disclose performing the oxidation after the mask has been removed. Gardner (especially Figs. 1-5 and text in col. 5, line 53 to col. 8, line 35) teaches oxidation after mask 42 has been removed.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to oxidize after removing the mask as taught by Gardner in Ku's process to minimize channel length for increased speed.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ku and Yoshimichi – JP 2002–134544.

Ku is applied as above and does not disclose using oxidation by oxygen implantation. Yoshimichi (especially the abstract) teaches to form a mask on the metal film, implants oxygen in the complementary areas, and forms an insulation film.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention to implant oxygen and oxidize as taught by Yoshimichi in Ku's process as being an art recognized equivalent to form an insulating film.

Claim 23 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
